NEW Integrative Leadership Graduate Minor (ILM)

Graduate Students: If you enjoy the topic of integrative leadership, and want to further develop leadership skills, consider adding the integrative leadership graduate minor to your accomplishments. This minor degree is designed to train future leaders to bridge institutional, geographical and national boundaries to address social, economic and political challenges.

The new program aligns with the work of the Center for Integrative Leadership, a joint venture among the:

-Humphrey School of Public Affairs
-Carlson School of Management
-College of Education and Human Development, and the -School of Public Health

Classes offer training in leadership theory and civic engagement, and include the Integrative Leadership Seminar, stimulating students to apply their knowledge by developing ideas to resolve real-world case studies.

Admissions: You must already be admitted to a master’s, doctoral or professional degree program within the University of Minnesota. (*Exceptions: JD, MD, PharmD, DVM, DDS and LLM.)

Curriculum:
Master’s Minor (9 credits)
Doctoral Minor (12 credits)

- Foundation course on Leadership Theory and Development in a Specific Discipline. (Example: OLPD 5048 – Cross-Cultural Perspectives on Leadership; several options available)
- Approved course on Leading Engagement Processes. (Example: OLPD 6490 – Managing Civic Engagement; several options available).
- Required course: Integrative Leadership Seminar (See separate handout for details.)

Doctoral students must complete 3 additional credits in a leadership course from an approved list of elective courses or as approved by the I.L.M. Director of Graduate Studies (DGS).

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Visit the Integrative Leadership Minor Home page http://www.cehd.umn.edu/olpd/grad-programs/ILM/default.html
or email the ILM DGS: Dr. Louis Quast, louquast@umn.edu